Royal Commission on Ecclesiastical Discipline

But, my Lords, I would not be understood to rest my case entirely upon the probabilities of superior fitness in point of theological learning.

Ecclesiastical court judgments and related issues

The decisions of the Civil Courts determine the distribution of funds, but are inoperative quoad sacra, which term includes the use of the building.

For example, the Court of Arches having many years ago decided that the ceremonial use of incense was unlawful, the question was in 1899 raised again at the Lambeth Hearings. This appeal goes up to the archbishop, and the archbishop gives a decision against the archdeacon and in favour of the bishop. Therefore I could not have taken the Amendment in that form.

Royal Commission on Ecclesiastical Discipline

That is one of the things we are always putting forward and that, rightly or wrongly, is the point of view of the vast mass of Churchmen in Wales. Banbury, Sir Frederick George Forster, Henry William Pollock, Ernest Murray Barnston, Harry Foster, Philip Staveley Pryce-Jones, Col. There were local objections and objections from some of the amenity societies.

Ecclesiastical court judgments

In order to complete the statement of our view as to the influence of the Ecclesiastical Courts and their procedure in producing the present prevalence of irregularity, it remains to consider what has been the effect of the Bishop's veto in operation.

The petitioner wished to exhumé the recently interred cremated remains of her husband from the churchyard and reinter them in her garden.

The Rights of the Church of England Under the Restoration Settlement

The Chancellor was satisfied that any harm to the significance of the Grade I church as a building of special architectural or historic interest would not be serious, and accordingly granted a faculty. It gives a test of what doctrine a man may hold.

Ecclesiastical Law

Supposing that it was in contemplation to invest any persons with the power, not simply of determining of any particular opinion, whether it be consistent with the Church's doctrine which is all that the Court of Appeal will have to determine , but of framing new doctrines: surely the Bishops would be more competent to exercise that power than the court as at present constituted. A faculty is a permissive right.
