Guiding Principles

We respect the law, support universal human rights, protect the environment, and benefit the communities where we work. Safety We maintain an environment that minimizes danger, risk, or injury.

Pence: White House, GOP releasing tax

I discussed this a bit in. Starting at some rating measure and working up, say, 1-in-10,000 taxpayers who benefit, every special deduction, credit and exception gets designated for sunset, and can only be resurrected by Congressional super-majority. The costs to collect are higher if there are millions of collection points compared to only a hundred or thousands collection points.

Facilitating Guiding Principles

He would also like to close existing loopholes for individuals and businesses but is not specific as to what they are. When a mistake is made, not only do we correct it, we seek to understand why the mistake occurred and what we need to do to prevent it from happening again. With this principle, the aim is to provide a simple tax system to enable the taxpayers better to understand the aftereffect of their actual and planned transactions.

Major Federal Tax Reform

The report notes that a consequence of continuous change is that it is hard for individual taxpayers to make the long-term decisions they need to.

Facilitating Guiding Principles

Principle 4 — Labor income is more like business income than you think.

A tax plan for Biden #2

Principle 5: Service delivered in the most effective and efficient way The ATO may not always be the provider of services to the community. Understanding the tax system and tax policy could be difficult, especially if you are not well-versed in the tax department. Continuous improvement We seek continuous improvement.
