I think that - despite Enoch's comments - that we are surely mature enough to see that Fr Cekada is able to write well and interestingly on many subjects that do not bear of the sede question and we can learn a lot from him. Brief introductions are always best.

Tabernacle Lesson 1

Your nature is ever changing and is always the same. Concluding Prayers The concluding prayers begin with Aleinu, and include and a song on -- usually Yigdal in the evening and Adon Olam in the morning -- at the end of the service. Hence the comprehending Supermind of eternal Truth-Consciousness has the need to change into Time and Space.

XIII Exclusive Concentration of Consciousness-Force and The Ignorance This is a grand chapter, in which contrary to our common sense, philosophic schools, or yogic goals he boldly declares that Ignorance is the greatest power of consciousness and hails it as a hooded gnosis. Any expectation more complicated or relying on something outside of yourself just sets up the future to not meeting your needs.
