Jazz Pharmaceuticals Announces FDA Approval of Defitelio® (defibrotide sodium) for the Treatment of Hepatic Veno

Correlation coefficients between individual chronologies in most cases showed significant and high relation between the volume of the trees growth. It should be mentioned that this reaction of trees may be associated not only with climate fluctuations but also with changes of the groundwater regime and cenogenesis of the high-moor bog.

Æóðíäë «Ëãññé âãñòíëê / Forestry Bulletin»

As the padding instrument of identification of the relationship between width of year rings and influence of climatic factors the analysis climate graphs for years of an extreme increase local minima and local maxima is used. Possibility of existence of significant differences in trees growth in the past with the similarity of the growth dynamics in recent decades imposes meaningful constraints on the conclusions reliability in those cases when the sawn wood products made from illegally felled trees shall be provided for examination.
