Code of Laws

Termination of appointment of a personal representative occurs as indicated in Sections 62-3-609 to 62-3-612, inclusive. A formal testacy proceeding may, but need not, involve a request for appointment of a personal representative. If it becomes evident in the course of a formal testacy proceeding that, though one or more instruments are entitled to be probated, the decedent's estate is or may be partially intestate, the court shall enter an order to that effect.

South Carolina Will Forms

The rights of purchasers and others dealing with a personal representative shall be determined as provided in Sections 62-3-713 and 62-3-714.

Code of Laws

No claim may be filed against the estate of a decedent and no proceeding to enforce a claim against the estate of a decedent or his successors may be revived or commenced before the appointment of a personal representative, except as provided in Section 62-3-804 1 b. The personal representative shall abide by the terms of the agreement subject to his obligation to administer the estate for the benefit of creditors, to pay all taxes and costs of administration, and to carry out the responsibilities of his office for the benefit of any successors of the decedent who are not parties. In the absence of administration, the devisees are entitled to the estate in accordance with the terms of a probated will and the heirs in accordance with the laws of intestate succession.

South Carolina Probate Records • FamilySearch

A formal testacy proceeding is litigation to determine whether a decedent left a valid will. And though optional, a testator can have the will acknowledged by a state-authorized notary public to further verify its legality. This subsection is intended to be declaratory of the law and governs the compensation of personal representatives currently serving and personal representatives serving at a later time.

South Carolina's Requirements for a Will

Effect of Amendment The 2013 amendment rewrote the section.
