Welcome to the House of Commons of Canada

The chairman of each committee is voted on in a secret ballot of the whole house during the first session of a parliamentary term, or when a vacancy occurs. Members who arrive late must stand near the entrance of the House if they wish to listen to debates.

The government is solely responsible to the House of Commons and the stays in office only as long as he or she retains the confidence of a majority of the Commons. The lowered property requirements for voting in the boroughs, reduced the representation of the less populous boroughs, and granted parliamentary seats to several growing industrial towns. More often, however, this device was used to delay and disrupt proceedings; as a result, it was abolished in 1998.

Senators are appointed by the Governor General on the recommendation of the Prime Minister and hold office until age 75. The executive branch consists of the Queen, the Prime Minister and Cabinet, and the departments of government.

House of Commons

In drawing boundaries, they are required to prefer local government boundaries, but may deviate from these to prevent great disparities in electorate; such disparities are given the formal term
