The Best of British manufacturing

It asks about experiences and perceptions of crime in Scotland.

Profitability of UK companies

Of the companies who issued a profit warning, 35% reported the reason as sales short of forecasts, which is the same as the previous quarter, whilst 20% reported delayed or discontinued contracts.

Made In Britain: A brief background to the British shoe Industry

Make it British surveyed UK fashion and textile manufacturers to find out if they have seen any impact to their business as a result of the Coronavirus outbreak.

Manufacturing in the United Kingdom

In the post-war decades, manufacturing began to lose its competitive advantage and experienced a relative decline.

What 'Made in Britain' will mean in 2021 and beyond

Manufacturing, however, remains important for overseas trade and accounted for 44% of goods exports in 2014. Sadly only a few factories make shoes for smaller brands, hence the need for shoe companies to look to Europe for their shoe manufacturing needs. When the whole supply chain is local, and is not reliant on crossing borders, it is much less vulnerable when something like this happens.
