New ICC ruling 'opens the door' for justice in occupied Palestine

The legal meaning of this view is twofold: first, Israeli law does not apply in these areas.

Palestinian territories

Some of the differences between the two systems include the following. Immediately after the war, on 19 June 1967, the Israeli government offered to return the Golan Heights to Syria, the Sinai to Egypt and most of the West Bank to Jordan in exchange for peace.

Jerusalem Center for Public Affairs Israeli Security, Regional Diplomacy, and International Law. This is a situation that must end.

Occupied Palestinian Territory

According to the Affairs OCHA the number of obstacles to movement inside the West Bank increased to 542 during 2013 from 529 in 2012. However, in general this opening is less the result of an overall easing in movement restrictions than the result of the institutionalization of movement controls into a formal and permanent regime of restrictions that has replaced roadblocks with gates that can be opened and closed at the whim of the military and that has reconfiguring how Palestinians travel.

What are the Occupied Territories?

The international community does not recognize Israeli sovereignty over East Jerusalem and considers it occupied territory. OHCHR oPt is the only internationally-mandated entity to monitor and report publicly on the human rights situation in the occupied Palestinian territory oPt, and is the official United Nations voice on human rights in the oPt. In of 15 December 1988, the declaration of independence of the was acknowledged by the, but it was not admitted as a member state.

Occupied Palestinian Territories

The movement of people into and out of Gaza is also severely restricted.

Occupied Palestinian Territory and Israel

In the 1970s both sides began to recognize the need for compromise. The , and many other international bodies and continues to consider Israel to be the occupying power of the Gaza Strip as Israel controls the Gaza Strip's airspace and territorial waters as well as the movement of people or goods in or out of Gaza by air or sea.
