He was 95 when he did that and he died in Hampshire, England in a little village called Nether Wallop I am NOT kidding. She was the last woman to be executed in Scotland.

Charlotte Chapel Citywide Edinburgh Missions

In 1946, after completing military service, Ashley Miller was appointed organist of the New York Society of Ethical Culture playing a Hope-Jones organ. This was followed by a short evangelistic service, and attracted about 80 men weekly; the men listened attentively and visitors remarked on both their good behaviour and their obvious attention to the service.

Our Records: The Usher Hall, Edinburgh

The only survivor, local fisherman Archie Smith, managed to grab a rocket line fired from the shore. My brother Philip had already been there for 3 years and was outstandingly successful academically, coming top of the A-stream in all academic subjects and having to suffer shouts of 'swot' every morning. His relationship with our father deteriorated and at sixteen there were frequent word-fights at Sunday lunch-time ending in screams, tears and locked doors.
