Kierkegaard, D. Anthony Storm's Commentary on

Published by Princeton University Press, 1941. The Christian conception of self-renunciation is this: give up your selfish desires and longings, give up your arbitrary plans and purposes so that you in truth work disinterestedly for the good—and submit to being abominated almost as a criminal, scorned and ridiculed for this very reason.

Jeremiah 7:1 Sermons: The word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, saying,

O, can it be upon a tree, The Savior died for me? Here no firm footing can be found, nay, there is a profound abyss; because, where confession is not complete, the hope of pardon also is defective; next, the priest himself must necessarily remain in suspense, while he knows not whether the sinner gives a faithful enumeration of his sins; lastly, such is the rudeness and ignorance of priests, that the greater part of them are in no respect fitter to perform this office than a cobbler to cultivate the fields, while almost all the others have good reason to suspect their own fitness. Whether it is your parents, siblings, or your own children, make it a daily habit to tell at least one person in your life how much you love them. Memorize those that drop into your heart when you read them.

Holiness

This leads us to lean hard on God, and to seek His companionship and fellowship.

PDF» Purity of Heart, Is to Will One Thing: Spiritual Preparation for the Office of Confession by Kierkegaard

What I want to tell you this morning is that these are unhealthy choices, but they are not irresistible urges. Oh, Lord, where has the hunger for holiness gone? It means every power of body, soul and spirit chained and kept for God's purpose only.

Purity of Heart is to Will One Thing

A moral man does not swear, but a holy man adores.

Penitence, as Explained in the Sophistical Jargon of the Schoolmen, Widely Different from the Purity Required by the Gospel. Of Confession and Satisfaction.

Their first statement is untrue: we nowhere read that the Lord said this to the disciples; and it is much more probable that he spoke to the Jews who were standing by, that from there being no suspicion of fraud the miracle might be more manifest, and his power might be the more conspicuous from his raising the dead without touching him, by a mere word.
