Population

Hit a particularly tricky question? Young adults aged 20-24 are in transition from living with their parents to forming their own families. Subsequent amendments in 1939 provided protection for dependents and survivors and in 1956 broadened coverage to workers who lost their jobs due to disability. What Types of Federal Programs Affect Families? Data are shown by the following characteristics: age, sex, race, Hispanic origin, marital status, family status, family income, education of the householder, labor force status, metropolitan residence, region, and mother's labor force status and education for preprimary enrollment.

Family Definitions in Programs and Policy

Even though these individuals do not live in families or households, they often have spouses, parents, and other family ties to the community and participate in Federal programs.

Census and Demography

A household consists of all persons who live together in the same dwelling unit. The report also describes, for comparison, the population born in the United States. You can check your reasoning as you tackle a problem using our interactive solutions viewer.

Almost all workers are covered through Social security with the exception of certain Federal, State, and local government workers.

Population

Similarly, there is no single definition of family, but many within each of the 55 Medicaid jurisdictions. Of these, 434,000 were dependents of retired workers, 1,037,000 were dependents of disabled workers, and 1,346,000 were survivors of deceased workers.
