The TV maker pits politicians against each other, while 150 floating voters watch via a Zoom connection. In the podcast Choose What they list the positions of all parties on the topics that people between the ages of 18 and 35 consider important. Top edges with a couple of tiny smudges, fore-edges brighter but both generally bright and clean; contents bright, tight, clean, solid and sound - near pristine - no dog-ear reading creases to any pages' corners, appears unread - apart from my own collation.

But how do you make a choice with so many different parties and points of view? The podcast can be listened to on Spotify and in your favorite podcast app since Friday. In Choose What I hope to give clear voters to floating voters, so that everyone will soon be able to make a convinced choice in the voting booth. Themes include animals, the corona crisis, the climate and housing.

FLOATING VOTER

Climate, education, discrimination, housing and work are themes that are important for voters between the ages of 18 and 35 in determining their vote in the parliamentary elections on 15, 16 and 17 March. .
