Originally of German extraction, this family may nevertheless be traced back as settlers in Scotland for no less than 700 years. She helped me in my school tasks, was remarkably proficient in her studies, was always with a book before her, even when curling the two or three long locks which adorned her dear face, she would forget the manual process, pursuing it mechanically, while her mind was lost in her reading or study. Relieved of the anxiety and care of my grandfather, she lived happily and contented, passing into the Beyond full of honor, loved by all who knew her, at the age of ninety-four years.
