Although many of the actions described above are not necessarily new in and of themselves in the organizational realm with the exception of the spiritual activities mentioned, the model is valuable because it integrates, in one framework, the important dimensions of service and organizational action. We all yearn for spiritually rooted qualities at work - integrity, character, inspiration, belief, and even reverence - qualities that are key factors in an enterprise's success. The Communal Aspect The final category entails building communities in the organizations in which we work.
