Types of Patents Two types of patents are issued by the U. The PTAB consists of the Under Secretary of Commerce for Intellectual Property and Director of the United States Patent and Trademark Office, the Deputy Under Secretary of Commerce for Intellectual Property and Deputy Director of the USPTO, the Commissioner for Patents, and the administrative patent judges, but normally each appeal is heard by only three members. Although there seems to have been an earlier law directed specifically at inventions relating to the manufacture of silk, the first law providing for the grant of exclusive rights for limited periods to the makers of inventions in general as a deliberate act of economic policy seems to have been in Venice in 1474.

Patent Law in the United States (Bitlaw)

The most common solution to resolving the ownership problems with joint inventorship is to form a new company owned by the joint inventors and possibly any investors and then have a Patent Assignment signed by the joint inventors assigning their ownership rights in the patent to the company. They ignore generation of law when convenient and cite stare decisis to uphold their own idiotic decisions. The Venetian Patent Statute, issued by the Senate of Venice in 1474, and one of the earliest patent systems in the world.

The Law of Patents

The specification must set forth the precise invention for which a patent is solicited, in such manner as to distinguish it from other inventions and from what is old. Publicly disclosing an invention will prevent someone else obtaining a patent for it. Joint Ownership Patents may be owned jointly by two or more persons as in the case of a patent granted to joint inventors, or in the case of the assignment of a part interest in a patent.
