Procedure and data collection methods The pre-trial baseline data collection will be scheduled for the third week after the beginning of the 2018—2019 school year. Shifts in instructional time toward English language arts and mathematics and away from other subjects were relatively large in a majority of school districts that made these types of changes. The PE teacher trainers who will deliver the autonomy support training for teachers in the intervention group will receive a familiarization session with the research team during which they will receive instruction on the intervention aims and training materials.
