An apprehension is notional when it is comparative or reflective. He had come to believe that Protestantism was no option. He also met, at the English College in Rome, Nicholas Wiseman, the future Roman Catholic Archbishop of Westminster.

Faith and above all, everyday life is different everywhere, dependent on denomination, but on the face of it, the common origin is obvious. He demonstrated that there could be no incompatibility between what was truly rational and what was truly , both finding their sole, direct, and entirely adequate expression in. Symbolism: Exposition of the Doctrinal Differences Between Catholics and Protestants as Evidenced By Their Symbolical Writings by Johann Adam Möhler

Notes: Half-title: Doctrinal differences between Catholics and Protestants. Symbolism is Mohler's magnum opus and crowning achievement, in which he works through and illuminates central issues in theological anthropology and ecclesiology within the context of a critical dialogue with Protestant theology. Speil wrote Die Lehren der Katholischen Kirche, gegenüber der Protestantischen Polemik, Freiburg, 1865, which, compared with Möhler's book, is a feeble defense.
