With regular practice one can become much more organized. This is especially true for provider systems that feel they have made great strides in their value-based care models and are not being rewarded for it by the big traditional legacy carriers. These are great reminders and or steps for persons to re-engage.

However, the fact is, you can save a considerable amount of time and effort by delegating tasks to the right people and focusing on core activities that will make you money. For a full list of units, download the qualification handbook from the centre documents section. You will begin to see interruptions as a minor annoyance rather than something that shapes your day.

Reflective supervision: Resource Pack (2017)

You might think you are saving time and money by doing everything yourself. Ensure, when making that handoff, that your team member has a crystal-clear understanding of what they need to do.
