Historic Film of Shipbuilding At Bartram's Shipyard, Sunderland in 1946

In 1939, Cecil McFetrich, at left in both of these images, , who had joined the firm as Secretary, was elected to the Board. Each thumbnail image below is 'clickable'.

Progress update from the Sunderland Shipbuilding archives project

The 16th page, the back cover, is, I understand, entirely blank.

Sunderland Shipbuilders Ltd

As well as letters these files often include notes of discussions held and provide a fascinating insight into the very important relationship between the shipyard and its customers. Bartram had previously been a manager at Dryden and then at Biddick Ford and Hylton.

William Doxford & Sons

Much new pneumatic machinery and other plant has been obtained to assist in dealing with the larger output.
