Stephenson from the records of the South Carolina Council Journal and tax lists, passenger lists, church histories, and other sources housed at the South Carolina Department of Archives and History. Very few people, however, know much about Griffith the man, the methodology behind the records, or, most important, how to make the best possible genealogical use of these sources.

Because this increment is so fruitful, Stage 2 activities will continue for the foreseeable future. Edwin Wolf II believed that since there was no evidence of the book having been ordered this copy probably entered the Library Company when it incorporated the Union Library Company in 1769.
