Teaching Methods and Strategies: The Complete Guide

One Scout leader observed: All pupils have the option of Scouting out of school anyway, but they are reliant on parents for this. Similarly, if informed policy decisions are not taken, this can affect the knowledge transfer processes as well as reduce the efficiency of teaching and learning processes Ezugwu et al. We describe preliminary results of the Integrating Human and Automated Tutoring Systems IHATS Project, the goal of which is to leverage a unique dataset containing information about student usage of both an automated tutoring system for algebra as well as transcripts of chat sessions between these same students and human tutors.

Learning by Doing: A Guide to Teaching and Learning Methods

The report concludes by making recommendations to policy-makers, school leaders and non-formal education providers that wish to work more closely with schools.

'Learning To Do, Doing To Learn': Why Simply Training Isn't Enough

Benjamin approaches her subject from an interesting background.
