Cox, Noel

Christendom a field of blood—oceans of human blood—cities reduced to ashes, to hideous heaps of repairless ruins—religious crusades—holy wars—interminable persecution—universal massacres—mutual extermination—depopulation over our globe, with blood, carnage, vengeance, death, et id genus omne.

Cox, Noel

We have ever watched the aspirations of the contemporary mind with sympathetic interest; our hearts have beaten in unison with its glowing enthusiasm for the new ideals of universal brotherhood; and we have seen in all its movements the symptoms of a glorious revival of religion.

10 Common Catholic Church Myths That Critics Believe

The work of organizing societies in New York was pushed rapidly, and now we approach the organization and session of the New York Conference.
