About this unreality of the ego, the Hungarian psychologist Volgyesi in his Message to the Nervous World says: Under the influence of the newest knowledge the psychologists already begin to realize the truth about the delusive nature of the ego-entity, the mere relative value of the ego-feeling, the great dependency of this tiny man on the inexhaustible and complex working factors of the whole world. Thus he contemplates all the phenomena, sees how they arise and pass away, and how nowhere any ego-entity can be found. Or Nibbana, as object of our thinking, may become an inducement to our joining the Order, or living a pure life, etc.
