30777 Sir Lamiel (SR E777, SR 777 & BR 30777)

A great deal of work has been completed on the locomotive including a complete re-tube of the boiler. By October 2020 work had started stripping the locomotive down in order to enable the boiler to be lifted from the frames.

30777 Sir Lamiel (SR E777, SR 777 & BR 30777)

Smoke deflectors were fitted in December, 1927. The novel breaks off at the next-to-last chapter, and the final chapter is essentially just his notes for how it would have been continued; this is much more extravagant in its plot than the completed part and he would undoubtedly have changed it. The latest safety devices have been fitted.

La Miel

E777 was first allocated to Nine Elms shed in London for work on the expresses from Waterloo station to the West Country and Bournemouth.

Lamiel (ラミエル)

In January 2019 the National Railway Museum disclosed that the agreement with the 5305 Locomotive Association would not be extended.
