legacies of racialized violence and structural inequalities that continue to play out in Egypt and our region so as to link these struggles.

Program: Political Science (BA)

The program is rigorous and requires a thesis as well as an oral examination in a field of their choice. All merit awards are based on your academic merit and professional experience, specifically your undergraduate grades and leadership activities as well as career-related accomplishments. Students can jump right in their first year on campus by participating in a mentoring program through the Eisenhower Institute.
