You can leave some of the responsibility to the firing. If they feel cool, they still need to dry more. Compared to residual clays, sedimentary clays are more plastic, and the particles are smaller, more uniform, and more mixed with other materials.

Sculpture/Ceramics

Experience has taught that even better results are obtained when several different clays are blended together.

Out Of The Earth Into The Fire

Mr Toh adores the rhinoceros, and is raising awareness for the cruel poaching of their horns. Students engage in making and research in these pursuits. We have tried to measure it, quantify it and dissect it, but the tighter we try to grasp it the more it escapes through our fingers.

The best ways to fix this are to slow down the drying of pots in a damp room or under plastic, keeping them out of the breeze, or to maintain a base thickness equivalent to the wall of the pot, or both.

Hazards in Ceramic

Therefore, I would not locate a kiln in my home or basement of my home. For that is what defines us. Grog is commonly either sand or fired clay which has been crushed and sized.
