'John Sergeant'

In a time when the art world focused, in turn, on Impressionism, Fauvism, and Cubism, Sargent practiced his own form of Realism, which brilliantly referenced Velázquez, Van Dyck, and Gainsborough. Carolyn was equally successful in her career and was esteemed for her carefully arranged botanical subjects.

John Sergeant

His oeuvre documents worldwide travel, from Venice to the Tyrol, Corfu, the Middle East, Montana, Maine, and Florida. He enjoyed an upscale clientele of aristocrats, wealthy businesspeople, artists, and performers from Europe and America. Over the years John had perfected his style and technique, mostly using charcoal estompe on Ingres paper.

Ward was 20 years his senior and was already established in his career but the meeting led to a successful and lasting friendship. The elaborately patterned gilt sofa and the heavy, iridescent rose silk of Mrs. Through Ward, John also met the artist Jehan Daly 1918-2001 who also became one of his long-established friends.

John Sergeant warns BBC hosts not to become personalities

Sargent's international reputation as a portraitist reached its peak in the 1890s and early 1900s, and he painted many of the distinguished personalities of his day, including the actress Dame Ellen Terry Tate Gallery , the art dealer Asher Wertheimer and his family Tate Gallery -13, , Coventry Patmore and Henry James.
