Startseite

In many countries in the world the first handful of hydrogen-electric with an operational range of more than 800 km 500 miles and top speeds of 140kph 85 mph are already operational. Other finishing steps are for example moistening and subsequent drying in order to improve the abrasion resistance of the individual fertilizer grains, or coating with special anti-caking agents. Nova Swiss high-pressure pipes and nipples are made from stainless steel and either straightened or bent to custom angles and autofrettaged as required.

Lasting Connections

Metal hydride storage, liquid organic hydrogen carriers or pressure vessels for storing hydrogen For and of hydrogen exist a lot of different possibilities. On one hand this reflected in our high quality products, services and solutions, which are being applied successfully globally, but even more so in the lasting relationships we have built with customers and partners globally.
