Oxfam in Bangladesh

Project Background In Bangladesh today, poverty is deep and widespread; almost half of the population lives on less than one dollar per day. Due to the honesty and integrity of the Bangladeshi workers, employers in the Middle East and South East Asia, today prefers Bangladeshis over the workers of other nations.

Healthcare System in Bangladesh: Improvements Despite Poverty

The project was implemented by GreenHill a NGO and funded by UNDEF.

Bangladesh

Conditions in the camps are woefully inadequate and unhealthy, with overflowing latrines and contaminated water. Among the most impacted workers will be those at bottom of the supply chains, and specifically those in the garment industry.

CV AYUB Ali _ December 2015

As a result, the dependence on foreign aid in framing the national budget has reduced to a great extent. We developed a new portal for the data, that makes it easy to access and use, and which will be fully launched later in 2020.
