Seeing the agonized earnestness of the man, though wholly uninformed of the cause of his uneasiness, which Larry constantly refused to divulge, O'Connor granted him the permission which he desired, and both left the building together. As he spoke thus, they had reached the end of the passage. Your carcase is safe and soundthen what do you funk for now? I regard it as a very serious obstacleone, however, which, so sure as I live, I will entirely annihilate.

How and when did he come up with you? Ashwoode, replied Larry, for one minute, and that's all. Is he then no moreis he dead? I confess, however, that I have misgivings about this. Upon this ungenial night, and somewhat past the hour of ten, a well-mounted traveller rode into the narrow and sheltered yard of the Cock and Anchor; and having bestowed upon the groom who took the bridle of his steed such minute and anxious directions as betokened a kind and knightly tenderness for the comforts of his good beast, he forthwith entered the public room of the inna large and comfortable chamber, having at the far end a huge hearth overspanned by a broad and lofty mantelpiece of stone, and now sending forth a warm and ruddy glow, which penetrated in genial streams to every recess and corner of the room, tinging the dark wainscoting of the walls, glinting red and brightly upon the burnished tankards and flagons with which the cupboard was laden, and playing cheerily over the massive beams which traversed the ceiling.

An' it please you, sir, replied the man, deferentially, it comes from Lord Aspenly. In pace I'm a turtle-dove all out; but once I'm riz, I'm a rale tarin' vulture. The signal, though scarcely observed by one other of the occupants of the room, was instantly and in silence obeyed by the landlord, who, casting one uneasy glance round, glided across the floor, and was in the passage almost as soon as the gentleman in the cloak.
