Enhancing Municipal Finance in Nepal

In this paper, we discuss the role that benefits and risks play in the formation of the decision-making process of market-participants, who are engaged in the upstream and downstream stages of the food supply chain.

L'enfant Sourd

Health expenditure information is systematically collated, but feedback from the private sector remains a challenge. · No dominant classification system to determine the greenness of projects and assets, and continued use of partial and high-level taxonomies.
