Communities across the Cairngorms

. Spanderswoud Eventually I reached the car having walked 30km for which I needed 7 hours. I hope that, however stringent the financial conditions may be, we may find it possible to give such help as is available to encourage this and other sports, and to speed up development in that area.

Cairngorms

Just remember to come back with a bone-chilling scary story! Countless 'wee burns' have to be forded and one makes me fall over and I land on my side, half in the burn and half in the bog on the other side. The National Trust for Scotland has enclosed some areas with fences to allow the trees to regenerate away from the attentions of grazing deer. The Secretary of State made it clear in his foreword that any expansion of facilities cannot take place without expenditure, inevitably over a period, both of money and of effort by public bodies, voluntary associations and private enterprise.

WINTER SPORTS IN SCOTLAND: CAIRNGORM REPORT (Hansard, 6 February 1968)

To the northwest lies , to the southeast , with Carn Etchachan and the Shelter Stone Crag marking the head of this great trench. Looks like I'm going to have to buy some extra food and batteries and make a huge detour to deliver them myself prior to the Challenge.

Caerketton and Allermuir Hills provide panoramic views over Edinburgh and the Forth. The noble Earl's great interest in winter sports and in skiing is well known, and I am glad to be able to give him all the support I can. The north and the south have a considerable amount of snow again but so far where I live - the middle - the streets are still black.
