

Women and the work/family dilemma - how todays professional women are finding solutions

J. Wiley - Society of Women Engineers

Description: -

- Women in the professions -- United States.
- Working mothers -- United States.
- Work and family -- United States. Women and the work/family dilemma - how todays professional women are finding solutions
- Women and the work/family dilemma - how todays professional women are finding solutions

Notes: Includes bibliographical references (p. 243-250) and index.
This edition was published in 1993

Filesize: 48.63 MB

Tags: #10 #Surprising #Statistics #on #Women #in #the #Workplace

Seven Challenges of Being a Single Mom

Of course women earn less, get less promotions. Each year the percentage of stay at home men are increasing as couples play reversed roles.

Women and pain: Disparities in experience and treatment

Changing work hours Work hours over the past 30 years changed most dramatically for mothers, although once again patterns vary by family income.

10 Historic Challenges That American Women Still Face Today

Some of the more important differences can be illustrated by observing groups of young teenage boys and groups of young teenage girls when they attempt to find their way out of a maze.

Women in the Workplace Issues: How to Solve the Challenge

Strategies to broaden the talent pool require effective engagement with the diversity agenda as a core business imperative. In the United States, the average middle-class family works more than 500 hours more each year than a similar family would have worked in the 1970s. Victim blaming, slut-shaming, and are largely targeted toward women victims.

Society of Women Engineers

The business community is acknowledging workforce planning as a major strategic issue that involves engagement with the diversity agenda.

Power Of The Pack: Women Who Support Women Are More Successful

How did inequities come about? This summary of the child-rearing experience of 902 female Harvard professional school graduates eloquently, if glumly, demonstrates that even prestigious positions and high salaries do not protect working mothers from job discrimination. Relatively few policy studies or academic papers discuss the lives and work of Americans in the middle. Women-owned businesses made up 26.

Related Books

- Definición de límites o el límite a la indolencia - la Zona Austral de Chile : sus desafíos y situac
- Microcomputer applications in structural engineering
- Hayali modernlik - Türk modernliğinin içadı
- Annual environmental report.
- Hybrid image processing - 1-2 April 1986, Orlando, Florida