China Is National Security Threat No. 1

The red-carpet treatment for Chinese officials should be conditioned on real progress on human rights. Democratic Senator Diane Feinstein and Congressman Eric Swalwell are just two of the most recent examples.

'The China Nightmare' Is a Country Both Weak and Dangerous

In 1945, the leaders of the Nationalist and Communist parties, Chiang Kai-shek and Mao Zedong, met for a series of talks on the formation of a post-war government. If every government alone faces a choice between seeking Chinese economic opportunities and speaking out against Chinese repression, many will opt for silence.

A Chinese invasion of Taiwan would be a bloody, logistical nightmare

But that will not be possible any time soon, perhaps not as long as the CCP reigns in Beijing. Two years later Lenin led the seizure of power in , and in 1919 he called the first congress of the Comintern, in Moscow, specifically to undermine ongoing centrist efforts to revive the Second International.
